BABELSTREET

Monitoring Activity in the South China Sea
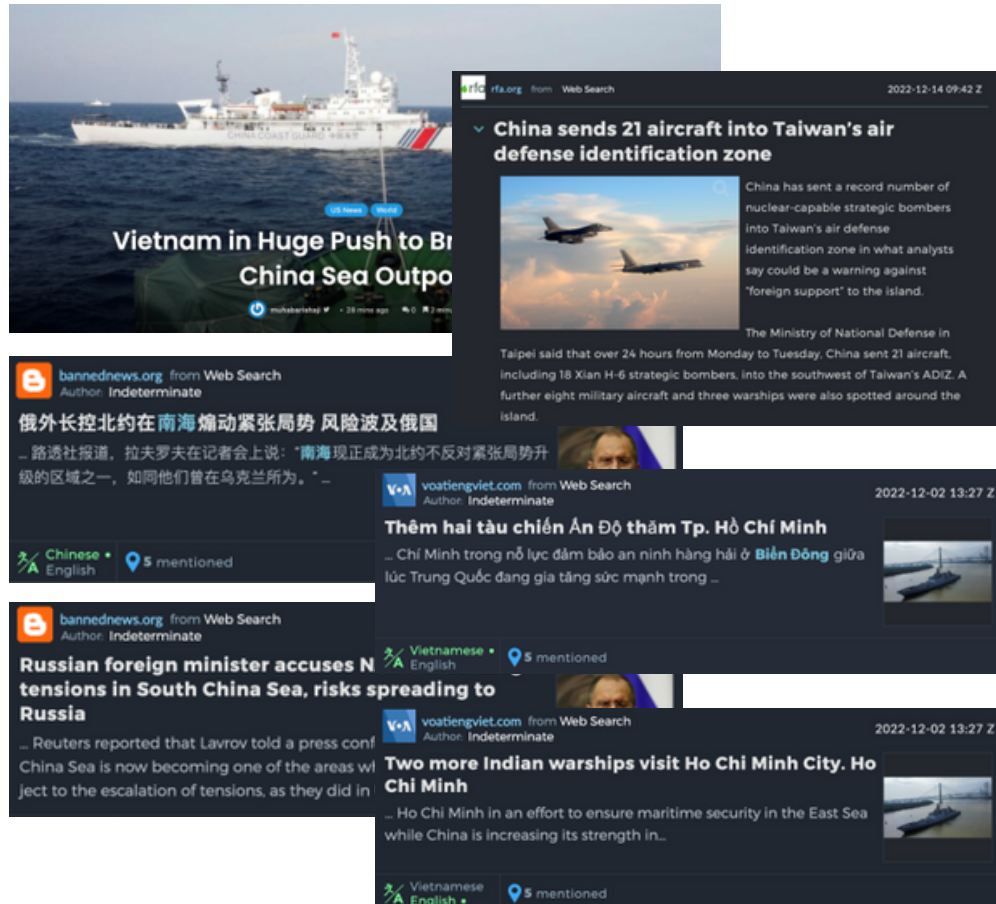

Open-Source Intelligence in Action

Background

- The South China Sea remains a place of geopolitical tension and competition.

- As a result, minor events and multi-country interactions have the potential to create severe crisis situations.

- Situational awareness on security in this region can aid responses, planning, and risk management.

- Recent activity involves a wide range of nations including China, Taiwan, Japan, Russia, Vietnam, India, and more.

Deeper Insight

Babel Street analysts, accessing publicly available information using techniques enabled by the platform, enhanced situational awareness through a range of timely, relevant articles and insights derived from both English and Non-English sources.

The Power of Publicly Available Information: Activity in the South China Sea

3+ Billion
Data sources across the digital landscape

200+ Million
Documents processed per day

24/7
Persistent, cross-lingual search is always on

1 second
Reveals the most insights that matter

The answers are out there.
Babel Street will help you find them.
Access the platform and learn more at BabelStreet.com