

Brazil Presidential Elections

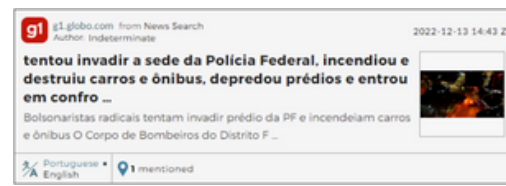

Open-Source Intelligence in Action

Background

- Brazil elects new President, Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva, on 1/1/23.
- Election results were razor close in race vs incumbent Jair Bolsonaro.
- Bolsonaro questioned electoral integrity prior to the vote in anticipation of potential defeat.
- Following Bolsonaro's loss, supporters took to the streets to protest results, using vehicles to block traffic, and called for a coup.
- Activity included a violent group storming/ransacking Brazil National Congress and other official buildings.

Deeper Insight

Babel Street analysts, harnessing the power of publicly available information from English and Non-English language sources, provided a steady flow of hyper-local information. These disparate sources enable highly effective monitoring of significant global political events and potentially volatile situations.

The Power of Publicly Available Information: Brazil Presidential Elections

3+ Billion

Data sources across the digital landscape

200+ Million

Documents processed per day

24/7

Persistent, cross-lingual search is always on

1 second

Reveals the most insights that matter

The answers are out there.
Babel Street will help you find them.
Access the platform and learn more at BabelStreet.com